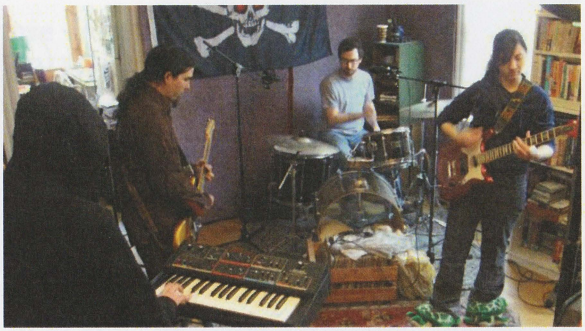
ICONS BY LITTLE JACKET!

Chief Bromide - Kicking off this year's Studio-A-Rama is local band Chief Bromide. Playing noisy lo-fi pop - the band describes themselves as "Fleetwood Mac on Cough Syrup" - Chief Bromide features 3 different singers and a mix of instruments including electric guitars, steel guitar, keyboards, and maracas. Their debut CD is "Chief Bromide Land" and we're glad to have Chief Bromide open this year's Studio-A-Rama.



Neon Tongues - Newly formed in June 2009, Neon Tongues is a trio featuring two guitarists and a drummer playing rowdy, yet well-behaved, garage punk. Featuring ex-members of The TV Oh Dees, The Neon Tongues will definitely get Studio-A-Rama moving with their minimalist guitar-based music.

Flowers In Flames - Featuring long-time veterans of the Cleveland/Akron/Kent punk scene (Germ Free Adolescents, Shadow Of Fear, Taliesin Echoes Full Wave Rectifier, etc.), Flowers In Flames features post-punk inspired psychedelia, mixing equal parts Bauhaus and The Cure with Interpol and Disappears. For the last few years, Flowers In Flames has been playing local venues, headlining and opening for national acts. Their debut self-titled CD was mixed by Todd Tobias of Guided By Voices (headlining act of 2002's Studio-A-Rama).

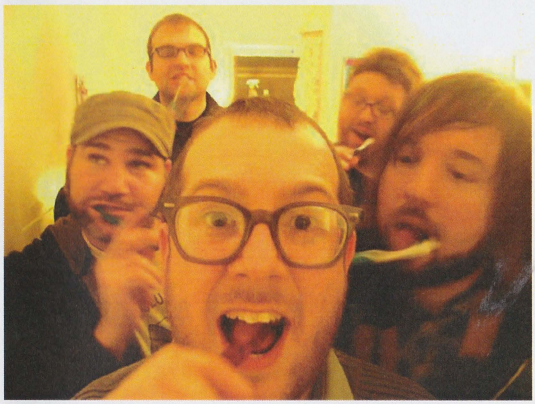
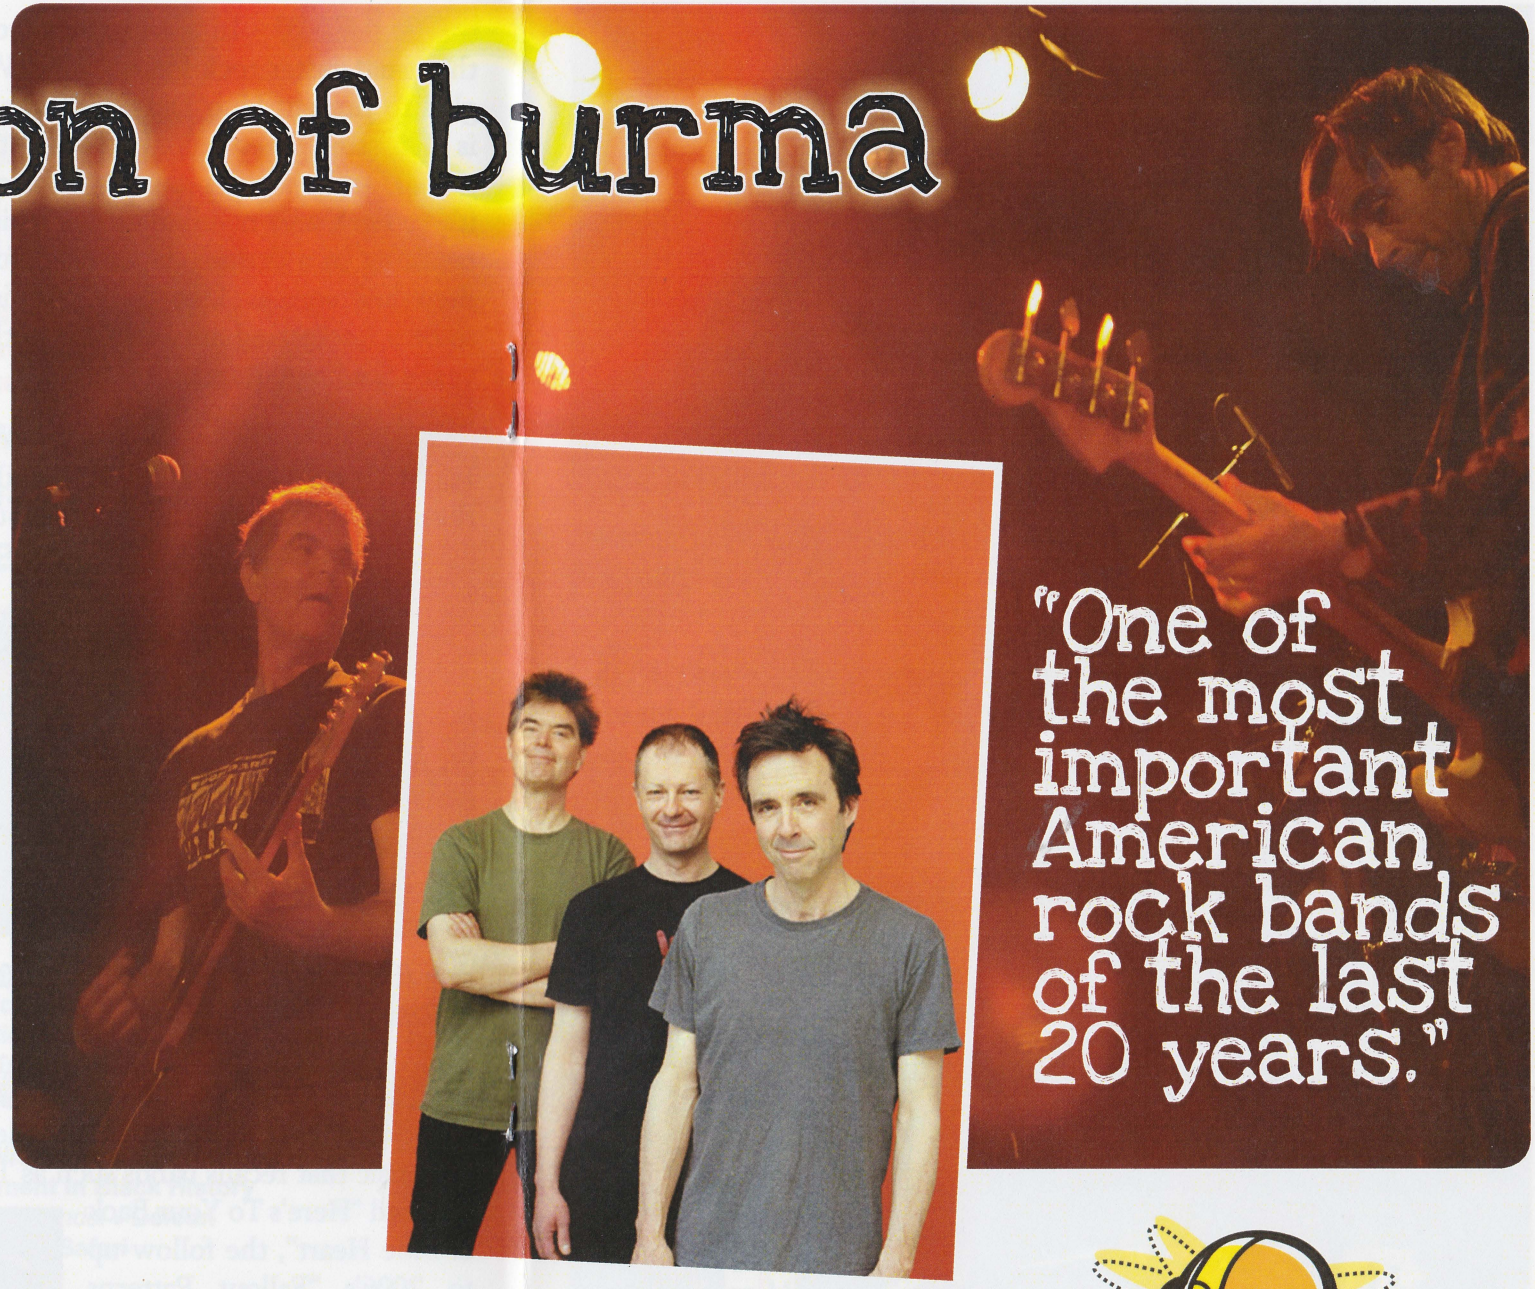
Uno Lady - In a departure from the usual guitar rock focus, WRUW is glad to present Uno Lady. Uno Lady is Christina Ebert alone (hence the name), and she uses various electronics to back and manipulate her voice, resulting in a dreamy tapestry of fuzz drenched vocals. Uno Lady promises to be a fascinating musical shift in this year's Studio-A-Rama.

The Kyle Sowashes - Hailing from Columbus, regional band the Kyle Sowashes feature - obviously - Kyle Sowash. After a decade of solo work, Kyle assembled the 4 piece band behind him, forming an indie rock band harkening back to bands such as Archers Of Load, Silkworm, and Superchunk. The Kyle Sowashes have released two full length CDs, various singles and cassettes, and even recorded for a Silkworm tribute compilation. WRUW is glad that the Kyle Sowashes made the 2 hour trip north for this year's Studio-A-Rama.



Mike St. Jude & The Valentines - This year's most straight ahead rock'n'roll band, Mike St. Jude & The Valentines put a modern spin on music that recalls bands such as The Faces and The Kinks. Having just released "Here's To Your Back & Blue Heart", the follow-up to 2006's "Fallout Patterns of The Hoodshot Blues", MSJ&TV have played venues from the Beachland Ballroom to the Happy Dog, and now they're adding Studio-A-Rama to their impressive resume.

mission of burma



How does one sum up the history and influence of Boston's legendary Mission Of Burma?

Formed in 1979, they have been releasing music since 1981's EP "Signals, Calls, and Marches", which was followed by 1983's seminal "Vs.". After an almost 20 year hiatus, Mission Of Burma returned re-energized, to issue 2004's "ONoffON" and 2006's "The Obliterati".

Their newest release "The Sound, The Speed, The Light" is set to be released in October on the Matador label, meaning that those attending (and listening to) WRUW's Studio-A-Rama will be among the first to hear these new tunes. WRUW 91.1 FM is extremely proud to present MISSION OF BURMA as the headliner for Studio-A-Rama 2009!!!

Kid Tested - Playing in and around the local scene for 8 years, Kid Tested are actually road tested veterans. Finally releasing their CD "Pop Era Laundry", Kid Tested still have a huge arsenal of guitar driven power pop for their upcoming follow-up CD "Lost On Purpose". WRUW is proud to have this long running Cleveland band play this year's Studio-A-Rama.

Megachurch - Repent! Over the last year, Megachurch has erupted onto the local music scene, converting non-believers at every show they play. With two bass players, a drummer, and vocals courtesy of found sounds and tape loops, Megachurch has been compared favorably to No Means No and The God Bullies. Megachurch's bass heavy math rock is the perfect lead-in to Mission Of Burma.

studio A rama happens every year because of your generous donations to the Annual WRUW Telethon. Thank you!
